

BUSINESS BREAKFAST

Next Office™ Concept

Creating the right working environment that provides the backbone of an efficient and motivated team is a challenge known to every company, regardless of its size and the number of employees. You can look for inspiration but there's no guarantee that following the latest trends will work for your team. As the attendees learned, it is not just a matter of budget, as the biggest investment in office space doesn't necessarily translate into the desired outcomes.

This business breakfast introduced an innovative workspace analysis concept from Kinnarps designed to help organizations develop a supportive work environment which allows the employees to carry out their work activities in the most effective way. The concept is based on direct feedback from employees, which creates a huge added value for the organization in the form of improved trust level, employee satisfaction and productivity.

BUSINESS SEMINAR

Does Your Workplace Attract New Talent?

The competition for attracting skilled talent as well as retaining the key employees is becoming more and more fierce. Employers are well aware that satisfied and motivated employees are an inevitable part of the equation to success. However, keeping them motivated and satisfied is proving to be a challenge that goes way beyond an attractive paycheck. This seminar offered an in-depth look at how employers can make adjustments resulting in a working environment which adds value to several areas of the company's efforts. Besides contributing to a more productive, healthier and stimulating workspace, it can also be aligned with the company's core values and principles, thus boosting employee morale. Not to mention that such a workplace can provide the decisive advantage over competitors in the eyes of current and potential employees. Expert speakers introduced topics ranging from the effects of the digital revolution on work environments, the latest trends in workplace design, to the relationship between workspace and corporate identity.
